Garnering coverage in Berkeleyside and KQED News, the 63rd Berkeley Hills Road Race went off without a hitch, organized and run by members of Kai Velo and the Berkeley Bike Club. The race is a fundraiser for the Berkeley High School Mountain Bike Team.

Attracting top talent, including Continental racers, the Elite 1/2 was won by Luke Lamperti, a young phenomenon, followed by UCI rider Cameron Piper.

New Kai Velo teammates Nate English and Art Rand had solid field finishes in the world-class 1/2/Pro pack.

Racing and Mission

The Kai Velo foundation's mission is to raise funds to support a wide-range of youth cycling activities. We primarily focus on supporting high school-aged youth mountain bike teams with free and discounted equipment, training, education, and transportation to cycling events.

MOST RECENTLY Kai Velo helped raise funds to purchase 10 Kinetic trainers for the Oakland Composite team (retail value: $3000).
